

A lot of music fans from outside of Canada have never heard of this guy before.

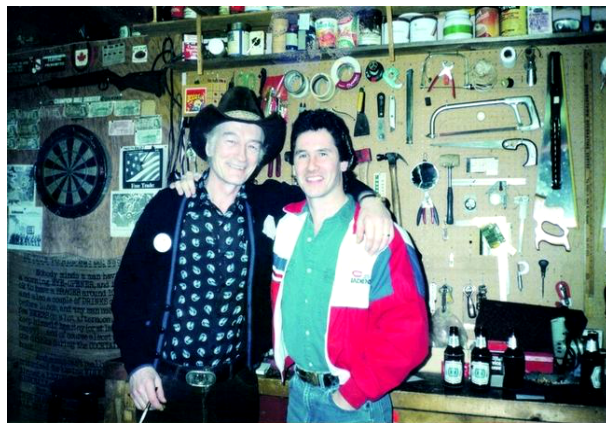

Stompin' Tom was never well known over in places like Nashville; he never played the Grand Ole Opry or hosted the Country Music Awards.

His only known American TV appearance was on the Conan O'Brien Show.

This man travelled up and down Canadian roads for many years, he was a real troubadour!

And let me tell you- Tom was one of the most down to earth people... he was so nice to all of his fans!

He was never too busy to sign an autograph, or get his picture taken with someone.

On March 6th 2013- Stompin' Tom passed away. Here on this DVD – is a look back at some of his classic performances... and the legacy that he left behind.
